Claimant: Common Pitfalls

Following the timeframes provided by the Act

If the times provided in the Act for service of documents are not observed exactly, the adjudication application may be invalid or the Adjudicator may be unable to consider an adjudication response. Times are in business days. Section 4 of the Act states that business day means any day other than: (a) a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday, or (b) 27, 28, 29, 30 or 31 December.

- For clarification of the definition of "Due Date for Payment" please refer to s.11 of the Act and also <http://www.adjudicate.com.au/nsw/start/due-date>
- For clarification of the definition of "Payment Claim" please refer to s.13 of the Act
- For clarification of the definition of "Payment Schedule" please refer to s.14 of the Act
- A copy of the Act is available at: http://www.adjudicate.com.au/pdf/nsw_SOP_Act.pdf
- The notice under s.17(2) is available at: http://www.adjudicate.com.au/pdf/nsw_optional_notice.pdf

1. Under section 17 of the Act, the time for lodging an adjudication application is:
 - a. Where the claimant received a Payment Schedule within 10 business days and the claimant disputes any reasons for non payment - 10 business days from the day of receipt of the Payment Schedule;
 - b. Where the claimant received a Payment Schedule within 10 business days showing that an amount will be paid and the claimant did not seek adjudication and the amount was not paid on the due date for payment - 20 business days from the due date for payment;
 - i. applications must be submitted after the due date for payment in (b). Applications received on or prior to the due date for payment may be invalid.
 - c. Where the claimant DID NOT receive a Payment Schedule within 10 business days and the whole or any part of the Payment Claim was not paid on the due date for payment, the claimant must give the respondent a second opportunity to provide a Payment Schedule before the claimant can make an adjudication application, as follows:
 - i. the claimant has 20 business days from the due date for payment to notify the respondent, by way of a notice under section 17(2) of the Act, of the claimant's intention to apply for adjudication
 - I. the notice under s.17(2) must be received by the respondent after the due date for payment in (c). Section 17(2) notices received on or prior to the due date for payment may be invalid.
 - ii. the respondent has 5 business days to provide a Payment Schedule; and;
 - iii. the claimant has 10 business days after the expiry of those 5 business days, to apply for adjudication
 - I. adjudication applications must be submitted after the 5th business day in (iii). Applications received on or prior to the 5th business day may be invalid.

Demonstrating an entitlement to the debt

2. The claimant may attach to the adjudication application copies of:
 - a.
 - i. A written submission by the claimant evidencing (i) that the claimant carried out under the contract the work or provided the goods or services for which payment is claimed, (ii) that amount claimed is due and unpaid and how it is calculated and (iii) the value of the work, goods or services for which payment is claimed. The submission should also respond to the reasons, if any, given by the respondent for not paying and should provide evidence or arguments to refute the respondent's grounds for withholding payment.
 - ii. IMPORTANT: Submissions are essentially arguments in support of the Claimant's case. The Adjudicator cannot be expected to assume that something said by the Claimant in a letter or minutes of a meeting or other supporting document, is true. As supporting documents usually don't speak for themselves, in the written submissions, the Claimant should state what each supporting document is (see b-f below) and how the Claimant contends that the supporting document supports the Claimant's case. The written submissions may include legal arguments, arguments on the interpretation of the contract or other arguments. If the Claimant wants to contend that something in a supporting document is true, the Claimant should say so in the written submissions. If the Claimant fails to do so the Adjudicator might draw the inference that the Claimant is not prepared to argue that the statement is true.
 - b.
 - i. the Payment Claim;
 - ii. written confirmation of the date and method by which the claimant served the Payment Claim on the respondent (eg; facsimile transmission report, postal details including postal address, etc);
 - c.
 - i. the Payment Schedule, if any;
 - ii. written confirmation of the date and method of the claimant's receipt of the Payment Schedule from the respondent (eg; facsimile, post etc);
 - d.
 - i. if required to be served, the section 17(2) notice (see Guidenote 1.c above)
 - ii. written confirmation of the date and method of the respondent's receipt of the section 17(2) notice from the claimant (eg; facsimile transmission report, postal details including postal address, etc);
 - e.
 - i. The construction contract (which may be a formal contract document, an exchange of letters, a quotation and acceptance or a record of an oral agreement) under which the payment claim is made;
 - f. Any other supporting documents (eg; certificates, test results, delivery dockets, invoices, photographs, expert reports, written statements, etc.)
 - g. The Adjudication Application Index (see page 3) or alternatively, a list of all attachments. Continued →

Notes for the guidance of the claimant and the respondent.
 All documents MUST be attached to the application form.

Other important information

3. A complete copy of the adjudication application and all attachments and other things accompanying it must be served on the respondent at the same time as it is served upon Adjudicate Today or as soon as possible thereafter.
 - a. The adjudication application may be served on the respondent in accordance with the contract or it may be served in accordance with the Act:
 - i. by delivering it to the respondent personally; or
 - ii. by lodging it during normal business hours at the respondent's ordinary place of business; or
 - iii. by sending it by post or facsimile addressed to the respondent's ordinary place of business.
 - b. Please note that the adjudicator may request that the claimant provide written confirmation of the date and method of service of the adjudication application on the respondent.
5. The respondent may lodge a response to the adjudication application ONLY if the respondent served a payment schedule under the Act [see s.20(2A) of the Act.] The response must be served on the adjudicator on or before the later of:
 - a. 5 business days after the respondent receives a copy of the adjudication application; or
 - b. 2 business days after the respondent receives notice of the adjudicator's acceptance of the adjudication application [see s.20(1) of the Act].

The notes above concerning submissions and attachments apply equally to the adjudication response.

6. Payment claims involving multiple contracts

Note that only one construction contract (written or verbal) may be adjudicated under each adjudication application. If lodging two or more adjudication applications at the same time with Adjudicate Today, the claimant should:

- prepare and compile the adjudication applications for acceptance by possibly separate adjudicators
- bind the hard copies of each adjudication application separately (where hard copies are being lodged)
- effect a separate electronic transmission for each application (where electronic copies are being lodged)

7. Please retain a copy of any documents submitted in hard copy

The Act does not provide a requirement for adjudicators to make documents submitted available for return to the parties at the close of an adjudication. If the adjudicator has for example entered markings onto documents submitted, the adjudicator may decide to withhold the documents from return to the parties so as not to allow sight of working comments.

As it is ultimately at the adjudicator's discretion whether documents lodged are made available for return to the parties, parties are advised not to rely upon the adjudication documents being made available for return.

In any instance, any party lodging adjudication documents is generally advised to both:

1. as a matter of caution retain a copy of any documents lodged with Adjudicate Today AND
2. consider submitting copies of documents to the adjudicator rather than originals unless absolutely necessary.

If a party does hope to have documents returned it is encouraged to include a note to the adjudicator expressing interest in having the documents returned at the close of the adjudication.

General

This information is necessarily very brief. The claimant and the respondent should not rely upon it but should study the Act and perhaps obtain expert advice. Unless invited by the Adjudicator [see. S21(4)(a) of the Act], the claimant and the respondent have no right to make further submissions after lodging their respective adjudication application and adjudication response. Consequently it is most important that the initial submissions are complete.
