Adjudication Application Guidance Notes

(Guidance Notes do not form part of the Adjudication Application)

This information is necessarily brief. Further details regarding preparation of the Adjudication Application may be reviewed at www.adjudicate.com.au/sa/served/claimant-disputes-payment-schedule-prepares-adjudication-application.

The Claimant should not rely upon this information, but should study the Act and if necessary, consider seeking expert advice. A copy of the Act is available at www.adjudicate.com.au/pdf/sa_2009_Act.pdf.

1. Written Submissions

This is an opportunity for the Claimant to demonstrate an entitlement to payment. A written submission by the Claimant may include the following information:

- (a) whether there is in existence a Construction Contract between the parties and whether the Payment Claim is made pursuant to that contract;
- (b) whether the Payment Claim reasonably purports on its face to comply with the requirements of section 13(2) of the Act. The Payment Claim:
 - i. must identify the construction work (or related goods and services) to which the progress payment relates, and
 - ii. must indicate the amount of the progress payment that the Claimant claims to be due (show calculations where necessary), and
 - iii. must state that it is made under the Act;
- (c) whether there is evidence that the Payment Claim has been served on the Respondent;
- (d) what the contract provides, if anything, about the particular claim made in the Payment Claim and the time for payment;
- (e) whether the Claimant says that it has done the work for which the payment has been claimed but has not received payment.

The submission should also respond to the reasons, if any, given by the Respondent for withholding payment and should provide evidence or arguments to refute the Respondent's reasons for withholding payment.

Unless invited by the Adjudicator (see s.21(4)(a) of the Act), the Claimant and the Respondent have no right to make further submissions after lodging their respective Adjudication Application and Adjudication Response. Consequently, it is most important that the initial submissions are complete.

2. Payment Claim

A full copy of the Payment Claim must be provided within the Adjudication Application.

Refer to section 13 of the Act for clarification of the meaning of the term "Payment Claim".

Further details may be reviewed at: www.adjudicate.com.au/sa/start/claimant-prepares-payment-claim

Payment Claim evidence of service

Written confirmation of the date and method by which the Claimant served the Payment Claim on the Respondent. For example, a facsimile transmission report, copy of email message, postal details including postal address, etc.

3. Section 17(2) Notice (if applicable)

If the section 17(2) Notice (Notice) was served on the Respondent, a full copy of the Notice must be provided within the Adjudication Application.

Further details may be reviewed at: www.adjudicate.com.au/sa/not-served/claimant-prepares-s17-2-notice

Section 17(2) Notice evidence of service

Written confirmation of the date and method by which the Claimant served the Section 17(2) Notice on the Respondent. For example, a facsimile transmission report, copy of email message, postal details including postal address, etc.

4. Payment Schedule (if served)

Refer to section 14 of the Act for clarification of the meaning of the term "Payment Schedule".

Full details regarding Payment Schedules may be reviewed at:
www.adjudicate.com.au/sa/served/respondent-serves-payment-schedule-within-time

Payment Schedule evidence of service

Written evidence of the date and method by which the Claimant received the Payment Schedule from the Respondent. For example, copy of email message, postal details including postal address, etc.

5. Construction Contract

Attach a copy of the Construction Contract. If the Construction Contract or agreement is wholly or partly oral, set out the precise terms of the oral agreement, when it was made, the named person who entered the contract on behalf of the Respondent and what was said to form the oral agreement. Attach a copy of any emails, correspondence or paid invoices supporting the oral agreement.

6. Supporting Documents

If possible, obtain witness statements or other technical reports, test results, photographs, invoices (from suppliers, quality assurance statements, if applicable, evidence of payment(s) to subcontractors) or other documentation which supports the claim, add these as numbered attachments. This is particularly important for larger claims. These attachments should show that the work was properly done and completed in line with the Construction Contract and/or that related goods and services were provided as per the progress claim. Statutory declarations are not necessary, because an Adjudicator cannot test the contents of a statutory declaration, they are given no greater weight than unsworn witness statements.

7. Other important information

Timeframes provided by the Act

The times provided in the Act for service of documents are strict. If the times are not observed exactly, the Adjudication Application may result in an Adjudicator not having jurisdiction to decide the value of the Payment Claim. Section 4 of the Act states that business day means any day other than (a) a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday; or (b) 27, 28, 29, 30 or 31 December; or any other day on which there is a Statewide shut-down of the operations of the building and construction industry.

Common Pitfalls

Through the experience of managing thousands of Adjudication Applications, Adjudicate Today has been made aware of many common mistakes. For a list of issues that Claimants must get right, please visit our website at www.adjudicate.com.au/sa/start/common-claimant-pitfalls.

Documents submitted in soft copy

If possible, use word searchable PDF format documents for submissions, statutory declarations, etc.

Documents submitted in hard copy

The Act does not provide a requirement for Adjudicators to make documents submitted available for return at the close of an adjudication. As it is ultimately at the Adjudicator's discretion whether documents lodged are made available for return, parties should consider submitting copies of documents rather than originals.

*Disclaimer re printing of hard copy of Adjudication Application

If a hard copy is requested and not provided by the Claimant, Adjudicate Today may be required to print the adjudication application. Adjudicate Today we will take reasonable care to ensure accurate printing of electronic files, however, we make no warranty or representation, express or implied that the printing will be accurate or complete. Therefore, Adjudicate Today shall not be liable in any manner whatsoever for direct, indirect, incidental, consequential or punitive damage resulting from errors in the printing of the electronic files. Adjudicate Today shall not be liable in any way for possible errors or omissions in the contents of the printing. The cost of the printing will be charged to you at commercial printing rates plus staff time at the hourly rate of $55.00 (incl. GST) for all time necessary and incidental to the printing. The hard copy of this Adjudication Application may be lodged with any Adjudicate Today state office.
